

"Break the Ice" with a Glacial Shell™ Massage from Spa Revolutions

Spa Revolutions Introduces Glacial Shells™, the Latest Innovation in Cold Therapy Massage.

Escondido, CA (PRWEB) June 16, 2011 -- Spa Revolutions, a nationwide provider of naturally self-heating skincare, beauty and wellness products for professionals, officially announced the expansion of their product portfolio to include cold therapy massage tools. Glacial Shells™, handcrafted from a combination of high quality porcelain and crushed seashells, utilize the technology of Glacial Gel™ to provide a cooling massage for up to an hour.

Glacial Shells™ feature porcelain shells created from a non-porous blend of real seashells and porcelain that will not absorb oils, dead skin cells, dirt or bacteria making them easy to clean and sanitize. Cast from the ideal ergonomical Tiger Striped Clam shell, Glacial Shells™ offer relief to the masseuse's hands and wrists and allow for deeper tissue work. Glacial Shells™ gently glide over the client's skin and are beneficial for reducing inflammation and soothing sore tissues.

"We recognize the benefits of both hot and cold therapy during massage and were motivated to introduce a tool that would complement Lava Shells™," says Cheryl Spousta-Schertzer, CEO of Spa Revolutions. "Glacial Shells™ offer a unique massage experience and are an innovative way to incorporate cryotherapy into spa menus."

Glacial Shell™ Protocol Training Kits are now available and offer spas the opportunity to experiment with the shells, develop their own specific protocols, and train their staff before incorporating this service at their facility. Each Training Kit includes: 2 Porcelain Glacial Shells™, 1 Botanical Massage Oil, 16 Chill Blend Glacial Charges, 1 Glacial Cooler with Ice Packs, and 1 Digital Training Guide. Glacial Shells™ are also available a la carte.

"Imagine feeling the relaxing and luxurious technique of shell massage infused with the cooling, soothing sensation of Glacial Shells™. When combined with Lava Shells™, the result is a tranquil and truly integrated sensory experience where guests will benefit from the healing elements of fire and ice," says Spousta-Schertzer.
